UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT TACOMA

THE PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE
COMPANY OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

CAROLYN ALLRED, Defendant

and

SHANNON ATKINSON, Defendant.

PRIMERICA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plaintiff,

v.

and

SHANNON ATKINSON, Defendant.

CASE NO. C11-5299RBL

FINDINGS OF FACT AND
CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

THIS MATTER having come on duly and regularly for hearing before the undersigned judge of the above entitled court for trial, and Shannon L. Atkinson (Atkinson) having appeared

1 and been represented by Barry Kombol and Benjamin Kelly, and Carolyn Allred (Allred) having
2 appeared and been represented by George S. Kelley, and the Court having heard witnesses,
3 examined documents and heard argument, and being fully advised in the premises, does hereby 4 enter the following:

5 FINDINGS OF FACT

6 1. This cause arises from an interpleaded life insurance policy issued by the 7 Primerica Life Insurance Company on May 17, 1993 (Policy No. 04-30236149) on the life of 8 Jerry Atkinson.

9 2. A second policy issued by Prudential Company of North American (Policy No.
10 G-46725) has earlier been awarded to Allred by Order of Summary Judgment filed April 18, 11 2012 and confirmed by Order of Summary Judgment filed December 6, 2012. Atkinson has 12 taken the position that this Court's Order on Summary Judgment (Dkt. 91), allowing a limited
13 right to amend her response, has resurrected issues pertaining to the Prudential policy and 14 presented evidence regarding said policy during trial.

15 3. At the time the Primerica Policy was issued in 1993, Shannon Atkinson, spouse of 16 Jerry Atkinson, was its primary beneficiary.

17 4. On August 21, 2009 the Atkinsons separated and Jerry Atkinson left the family
18 home. After the separation Jerry Atkinson and Carolyn Allred resided together.

19 5. On November 12, 2009 Shannon Atkinson filed a petition for legal separation in 20 Pierce County Superior Court under case number 09-3-04059-1.

21 6. On November 3, 2009 Jerry Atkinson changed the beneficiary of the Prudential
22 policy by online change of beneficiary. He disclosed the change of beneficiary to his spouse in a 23
24

1 Financial Declaration filed with the Pierce County Superior Court in the dissolution of marriage
2 proceeding on December 2, 2009. (Exhibit 6)

3 7. On December 1, 2009 Jerry Atkinson changed the primary beneficiary on the 4 Primerica policy from Shannon Atkinson to Carolyn Allred and the following day he filed a
5 counter-petition for dissolution in Peirce County Superior Court. Jerry Atkinson made the 6 change of beneficiary on a form previously provided by Primerica after he had requested the 7 form by telephone from his cell phone on November 13 and 16, 2009, and it was subsequently
8 mailed to him at his residential address. (Exhibit C)

9 8. As of November 12, 2009, and certainly no later than December 2, 2009, the date
10 that Jerry Atkinson filed a counter petition for dissolution, the marriage of Jerry and Shannon
11 Atkinson was defunct as the parties had ceased residing together, Jerry Atkinson had established
12 a living arrangement with Carolyn Allred, had established a joint checking account with Carolyn
13 Allred, and was engaged in dissolution litigation in Pierce County Superior Court.

14 9. On November 12, 2010 Jerry Atkinson committed suicide.

15 10. The dissolution proceeding was subsequently dismissed by Shannon Atkinson on 16 November 15, 2010.

17 11. The change of beneficiary form (Exhibit C), which had earlier been mailed to 18 Jerry Atkinson's residence, was signed by Jerry Atkinson and witnessed by Christopher Ryan
19 and Gary Goodner. The date on the change of beneficiary form was December 1, 2009, a day
20 when Jerry Atkinson had scheduled the initial meeting in the morning with his divorce attorney.
21 He had worked the evening shift on November 30, 2009 at the Sonoco recycling plant in 22 Sumner, Washington where he and the witnesses were employed. Jerry Atkinson worked shifts
23 that alternated between day, swing and graveyard, and therefore occasionally worked the same 24

1 shift as the witnesses, who were permanently assigned to day shift. His return to the Sonoco
2 plant on his way to the lawyer's office was to get the change of beneficiary form witnessed, and
3 because his usual coworkers were not on duty, he had Ryan and Goodner act as witnesses.

4 12. Witness Christopher Ryan denies that he witnessed Jerry Atkinson sign the form
5 because he and Jerry Atkinson had different work schedules and were never together at a time
6 when he was asked to sign any document, and therefore, believes that his signature is a forgery.

7 13. Witness Gary Goodner testified that he does not recall being a witness on the 8 change of beneficiary form, but did not claim that his signature is a forgery.

9 14. Letter from Primerica to Jerry Atkinson at his residential address, dated December
10 8, 2009, confirmed the change of beneficiary. (Exhibit 3).

11 15. According to the testimony of James Green, Allred's handwriting expert, the 12 signature of Jerry Atkinson on the Primerica Change of Beneficiary Form is probably genuine.
13 Mr. Green examined a photo copy of the Change of Beneficiary form together with the original
14 signatures of Jerry Atkinson on documents dated September 26, 2009 and November 13, 2009, 15 carbon copies of his signature on documents dated September 26, 2009, and machine copies of 16 his signature on documents dated December 1, 2009, January 13, 2010, January 28, 2010, and 17 October 29, 2010, which samples are accepted by handwriting experts in determining the 18 authenticity of disputed signatures. (Exhibit 4)

19 16. Green testified that the questioned signatures of witnesses Ryan and Goodner are 20 probably genuine. Green's opinion of probably genuine is the second highest degree of certainty
21 as per standards of American Society for Testing Materials (ASTM) which is recognized by 22 document examiners in rendering opinions.

1        17.     Green recognized that each individual's signature will vary depending on many
2 circumstances including the type document being signed, stress of its author, writing materials
3 used, surface being written on, and the writing instrument being used. In reviewing many 4 examples of the genuine signatures these variations can be identified and used to reach a final 5 opinion regarding genuineness. One difference, or even a significant difference, is insufficient to 6 eliminate a writer of a signature.

7        18.     Wendy Carlson presented testimony that she attended correspondence school in 8 order become a questioned documents expert. She testified that the signatures of Jerry Atkinson,
9 Christopher Ryan and Gary Goodner were forged. She testified that she was "absolutely certain"
10 that she was correct. She testified that one "significant difference", as that term is defined in the 11 ASTM, is sufficient to disqualify a signature as genuine. Her opinion regarding Jerry Atkinson's
12 signature was based upon a review of the change of beneficiary form (Exhibit C), one photo
13 copied signature on a legal pleading and five checks, all bank provided copies. She did no
14 independent examination of Ryan's or Goodner's signatures but relied on an examination of one 15 of her co-workers.

16        19.     James Green's opinion is more credible than Wendy Carlson's on the issues
17 regarding the validity of the questioned signatures.

18        20.     Payments of the monthly insurance premiums were paid by automatic deduction
19 from the joint account (U.S. Bank Account No. xxxxxxxx6758) of Allred and Jerry Atkinson
20 which was created October 2009. Payments were paid by electronic transfer from said account
21 on a monthly basis. In the event of insufficient funds in said account, there was no overdraft
22 protection that would have indebted the former marital account of Jerry and Shannon Atkinson.
23 Jerry Atkinson paid money into his former marital account (U.S. Bank Account No.

1 xxxxxxxx6073) in order that the mortgage on his former house would be paid as an automatic
2 withdrawal, as per the order of the Pierce County Superior Court in the dissolution proceeding.

3 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

4 1. The Court has jurisdiction of the parties and the subject matter of this proceeding.

5 2. The Court recognizes that the standard of proof regarding alleged forgeries is by 6 clear, cogent and convincing evidence. Atkinson failed to prove any portion of her case by even 7 a preponderance of the evidence.

8 3. The character of the funds including the premium payment prior to his death used
9 to pay the premiums on the Primerica Policy following December 1, 2009, were separate funds
10 of Jerry Atkinson and the policy and its proceeds are therefore his separate property, free from 11 any claim of his estranged spouse, Shannon Atkinson.

12 4. There is no credible evidence to support the allegation that Carolyn Allred
13 obtained access to Jerry Atkinson's computer, either his work or personal computer, and changed
14 the beneficiary of Prudential policy.

15 5. Jerry Atkinson acknowledged that he had changed the beneficiary to the 16 Prudential policy by a "Sealed Financial Document" filed in his dissolution proceeding and 17 served upon Shannon Atkinson or her divorce attorney.

18 6. By a preponderance of the evidence, Jerry Atkinson had the intent to change the 19 beneficiary of the subject Primerica policy on December 1, 2009 and exercised that intent where 20 he executed the Change of Beneficiary Form and took no contrary action after receipt of the 21 December 8, 2009 letter from Primerica confirming said change of beneficiary.
